Sport Shop

By ARNOLD YELLEN

A popular sport these last few years seems to be the tagging of descriptive nicknames on people, such as "The Voice" for Frank Sinatra and "The Body" for Marie McDonald. The Sport Shop will now join the mob and nominate Eddie Cole for the very, very descriptive title of "The Nerve."

And does that title suit him? He started quivering the morning of the first game of the season and will stop around Christmas or the first of next year.

Take a look at him pacing up and down in front of the bench during a game and you'll see him blazing a trail of little white scraps. He carries a roll of adhesive tape and keeps tearing off little hunks. During the Redondo game, he went through three big rolls of the material.

"Worst beating any team of mine took in my five years of coaching." That was Cole speaking. "Bugbee? Don't mention that name!" again Eddie Cole, this time breaking out in a cold sweat. "Bugbee wasn't bad enough, they have to have this kid Ronnie Dixon who does right well for himself on the gridiron."

The prevailing opinion around town is that Russ Striff didn't want to run the score up too high, but neither did he want his Redondo squad to be scored upon. But, he made a mistake running his first team in when Torrance had the ball barely inches from the goal line and with only seconds left in the game.

His second string was warmed up while his first team had been sitting on the bench and were not ready to go in on a goal line stand. It didn't make much difference either way whether the Tartars scored, but the crowd didn't think it was very sporting of Striff to throw his power house back into the game.

The Torrance boys didn't feel too downcast after the game. Coming back to the high school on the bus afterwards, they were peppy and looking forward to meeting Saint Monica this week.

The Tartars command a lot of respect for the fight they put up. They met a better team and lost, but they were scrapping every second. They knew they couldn't possibly win but they went after and got a score in the closing seconds of the game.

Nor did it make much difference whether the Sealwaks ran up 33 or 34 points, but Gene Stirling blasted through the line on the try for point after the last Redondo TD and blocked the kick. Blocked it with his face and had his eye swell up to the size of an apple.

No, the local lads didn't win but they tried. And tried hard. What more could anyone ask? They're not through yet, and if they keep up that spirit, they could still finish right up at the top.

"Soeko" Torres, the mighty mite of Redondo, was billed as a passer but didn't do too well. But then, why bother to pass when (ugh!) Bugbee was rolling like he was. Little "Soeko" is more than just a hurler, too.

Striff had to pull him out of the game because he was piling into the line to make the tackles. There's only 184 pounds of him and that isn't enough to go around, so Striff saved him for passing and calling the plays. He did well in both departments.

Torrance was hurt by the absence of Tom Faren, out with a bad knee. Things might have been a little better if Big Tom had been in there backing up the line on defense and smashing through it on offense.

Billy Morgan, the Tartar halfback who seemed to catch on fire during the closing minutes, was unable to be at practice all week because of a touch of the flu. But he certainly didn't look sick when he went wide around the ends.

The last word: BUGBEE!

Lomitans Wallop LaVerne, 18-8 For 2nd Win

Lomita's undefeated Merchants won their second straight victory in smothering the LaVerne Merchants, 18 to 8, in a free hitting encounter on the La Verne diamond.

Led by the heavy stick of Pitcher Tom Tucker, the locals accumulated 23 hits while their opponents were hammering out nine. Lomita was long in the miscue department with 3 errors, while La Verne made only 2 mistakes.

Catcher and Manager Gus Muehler was accredited with two home runs, one in the 4th and the other in the 6th, bringing home a total of 4 runs.

The locals got off to a flying start in the first inning and turned 3 hits into as many runs, and were never headed thereafter.

Biggest inning in the run-away ball game was the sixth in which the Lomitans made 4 hits account for 5 runs. Muehler and Hobbs led off with home runs. Tucker hit, and Johnson tripled and got home before the side was retired.

The Lomitans battered LaVerne starting hurler Starcher for 10 hits in four innings and turned on relief chucker Mesevich for 13 more in the remainder of the game.

The strong Lomita aggression had downed North Long Beach 16-3 the preceding Sunday, for their first victory since the formation of the club.
